Sustainable Best Practices Throughout the Value Chain

Effective corporate responsibility practices are built on a foundation of knowledge, regular training and peer-to-peer collaboration. The AIAG Corporate Responsibility Summit is a unique opportunity to build your knowledge base and bring cost-saving instruction back to your organization. Stay ahead of the CR curve by engaging with forward-thinking leaders in the field and by discovering new insights and industry best practices.

Join us at the 2015 Corporate Responsibility Summit to learn best practices on:

- Societal Connection: Why society cares and how it drives our industry to react
- Emerging Issues: A look at developments on the horizon that could impact your business
- Leadership: What lessons can be learned from industry-leading companies to create a successful CR model for your organization
- Global Regulations & Standards: Which ones impact your company’s CR practices and ability to import/export
- Conflict Minerals Reporting: Guidance for conducting due diligence and developing a thorough Conflict Minerals Report (CMR)
- Risk Assessment: How to identify risks
- Sustainability Self-Assessments: How to properly identify and effectively mitigate CR risks
- Transparency: How to create a sustainability report that highlights your company’s CR success

This event will benefit manufacturing professions representing OEMs and suppliers of all sizes.
