

Call for Speakers

AIAG Future Automotive Experts Program

Prospective Speaker: AIAG welcomes your proposal for a presentation or case study

Future Automotive Experts (FAE) Program

FAE is a series of events geared toward new professionals who have recently joined the auto industry. Each event is free to members and structured to help transfer knowledge and expertise from the current generation of industry experts to the next generation. Event topics cover information every automotive expert needs to know, as well as broaden the participants understanding of the industry, its complexities, and its interconnections.

Target Audience

Future subject matter experts in the newest generation of automotive professionals

Presentation Details

For the foreseeable future, FAE events will be held virtually. Events begin with a 45-55 minute presentation followed by a brief Q & A.

Specific topics vary, but since the purpose of the program is knowledge recovery and transfer, the content should revolve around historical information, current state, and future expectations. Most of this audience has received some degree of formal education. Now they need practical knowledge from Sr. Experts who have “been there, done that”. Story-telling is always the most effective and well received method.

Absolutely no commercials, sales pitches, or endorsements will be considered or allowed in presentations. (Sponsors are permitted for each event. Please contact Shannon Osburn at sosburn@aiag.org if you have interest in sponsorship opportunities).

Conference Contact Information

Please submit your proposal (next page) electronically to Shannon Osburn at sosburn@aiag.org
