HSI is a leader in combatting transnational criminal organizations engaged in human trafficking. HSI utilizes all of its authorities and resources in a cohesive global enforcement response in order to disrupt and dismantle the criminal infrastructure engaged in human trafficking.

The mission of HSI human trafficking investigations is two-fold:

1. Proactively identify, disrupt and dismantle cross-border human trafficking organizations and minimize the risk they pose to national security and public safety.

2. Employ a victim-centered approach, whereby equal value is placed on the identification and stabilization of victims and on the deterrence, investigation, and prosecution of traffickers.
Human trafficking vs. human smuggling

TRAFFICKING

Involuntary

Crime against a person

Exploitation based

No border crossing required

Foreign nationals or U.S. Citizens

SMUGGLING

Voluntary

Crime against the State

Transportation based

Requires border crossing

Foreign nationals

NOTE: Human smuggling situations can turn into human trafficking. Human smuggling may involve violence or exploitation, but the situation may not rise to the level of human trafficking.
Human Trafficking vs. Human Smuggling

Force
- Physical assault, sexual assault, confinement

Fraud
- False promises about work/living conditions, withholding promised wages

Coercion
- Threats of harm or deportation, debt bondage, psychological manipulation, confiscation of documents, forced drug dependency
Human Trafficking Defined

Labor trafficking: Recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision, or obtaining a person for labor/services through force, fraud or coercion

Sex trafficking:
- Over 18 years of age: a commercial sex act induced by force, fraud or coercion
- Or
- Under 18 years of age: a commercial sex act if under 18 years of age (Do not need to show force, fraud or coercion)

NOTE: Immigration status or citizenship is not an element of human trafficking
SEX WORK VS. SEX TRAFFICKING

SEX WORK
Choice or Circumstance
Between consenting adults
Not a victim

SEX TRAFFICKING
Force, Fraud, or Coercion
Involuntary or involves a minor
Is a victim
RISING TO THE LEVEL OF LABOR TRAFFICKING

- Labor Trafficking
- Exploitation
- Abuse
- Violation
Traffickers and Victims can be:

- of any age, race/ethnicity, sex, gender identity, nationality, immigration status, cultural background, socio-economic class, education attainment level, etc.

- found in legitimate and illegitimate industries, and may intersect with other criminal activity, such as drug trafficking, human smuggling, or money laundering

- associated with relatives, family friends, gangs, transnational criminal organizations

- alone or in groups
The United States is a source, transit, and destination country for men, women, transgender individuals, and children—both U.S. citizens and foreign nationals—subjected to sex trafficking and forced labor.

Traffickers use various forms of force, fraud, and coercion to control and exploit victims, including debt bondage, fraudulent employment opportunities, false promises, violence and threats of violence.
The transportation industry is uniquely positioned to help Recognize and Report human trafficking.

The crime of human trafficking does not require transportation, however traffickers often use transportation systems to operate their illicit enterprise.
Human traffickers use the transportation industry to recruit victims.

- Train and bus stations
- Informal bus systems
- Buses and airplanes used to bring potential victims to traffickers
Human traffickers use the transportation industry to exploit victims.

- Personal, business, and rental vehicles
- Taxis and ridesharing services
- Buses, trains, and airplanes
- Trucking, shipping, freight
- Truck stops, rest areas, welcome centers

Human Trafficking Awareness

Officer Nathan Daugherty
Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Division
Michigan State Police
Who is at Risk?

- Trait of vulnerability
- Diverse ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds
- Varied levels of education
- Documented or undocumented
- Runaway youth
- Youth in foster care system
- Previous sexual abuse
FACTS on runaways who are exploited

• 1. These kids are truly victims. Pimps and johns are the criminals. They are so often badly damaged from the exploitation.

• 2. The issue of runaways includes that society views this as a problem within a family, not a problem that has impact “for you or me”.

• 3. Traffickers do not just parade the kids on city streets anymore. They are shopped from homes via computers and the encounter is in hotels.
Teenagers (in general)

- Do not think as we do
- Can be easy prey for those who say the right things.
- Can be manipulated.
- May initially go off with someone unexpected.
- They can come from dysfunctional homes or caring and loving homes.
Any form of trafficking is an economist’s dream

- LOW RISK
- Low Investment
- High demand
  - Demand side usually not addressed
  - May be 3\textsuperscript{rd} largest criminal enterprise in world
Social Media and the Internet

- Dating sites for teens
- Teens recruiting other teens
- Other social media apps
Indicators of trafficking

- Evidence of being controlled
- Signs of physical or sexual abuse
- Fear or depression
- Lack of documentation
- Third party insists on being present/answering questions for person
- Does not want to make eye contact
- Branding
- Loyal to trafficker
Tattooing

A pimp often brands the women/girls he traffics with tattoos – often using his name, her nickname, or some other symbol. These tattoos serve as a permanent reminder that a pimp controls the woman’s or girl’s body.
Language from “The Life”

- Bottom or Bottom Bitch — A female appointed by the trafficker to supervise.
- Daddy — The term a trafficker will often require his victims to call him.
- Family/Folks — The term used to describe the other individuals under the control of the same trafficker.
- Lot Lizard — Derogatory term for a person who is being prostituted at truck stops.
VICTIM FOCUS RESPONSE:

• Persons being trafficked are victims.
• They may not see themselves as victims.
• Collect what information you can.
• Be Careful: Expect that They (and You) are being watched
• Many are traumatized
